

HPS SUMMIT SPONSORSHIPS

Join NEEP, The New Hampshire Department of Education and The Rhode Island School Building Authority for two High Performance Schools Summits this fall.

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

As a sponsor of the trainings, you and your organization will be recognized as a leader in the rapidly expanding high performance schools market. The training will be strategically targeted to reach school district facility planners, design professionals, energy consultants, facilities managers and other industry professionals.

Connect with school districts and other like-minded colleagues looking for the premium tools, products and resources necessary to fundamentally change the design, construction, and operation of schools.

Showcase your products and services to the Northeast school construction market, a dynamic region deeply committed to high performance building strategies and products. Support this high performance school movement to "green" schools from the inside out – creating healthy, productive learning environments for students, teachers and staff.

Sponsors will be recognized for their support preceding the training, and during the training. Professional firms, trade associations, product manufacturers, as well as other private industry companies, are invited to support our training sessions through sponsorship.

Sponsorships provide funding to keep the event free for attendees in particular school and district attendees, as well as funding the delivery of the program, including presenters, outreach, and program delivery.
